Grief that Causes

A foreign journal of high standing contains an advertisement of half a page, and surrounded by a black border. For obvious reasons we give names by initials only, lest a piece of effrontery and quackery be advertised. The advertisement begins: "With profound grief I announce the death of my dear, tenderly loved, Prof. H. who passed away September 9, 1881. In making the announcement I deem it proper to state that many forgers will avail themselves of this opportunity to deceive the public. Everybody who wants the genuine P. syrup must have the undersigned, Naples, 4 C." etc. The rest of the advertisement is devoted to the statement that the nephew alone makes the correct copy.

Boiled Dog.

Grant Jones, a precocious lad of this place, relates a very interesting experience with one of his numerous dogs a few days since. He was out in the sagebrush north of town chasing rabbits, and his dog becoming warm and thirsty, he poured a bowl of water near by and made for it post haste. Reaching the brink, he plunged in to cool off—and he "cooled," but it took all the hair off the canine, and left him a lifeless lump of boiled dog. The dog was one of the numerous hot springs above town. Grant mourns the loss of his pup, but he says it was "awful funny" to see him jump into a pool of boiling water to "cool off."

France is suffering more from labor strikes at present than any other nation. In Paris the book-binders, brass-instrument makers, carpenters, coopers, gliders, lace-makers, piano-forte-makers, sawyers and turners are all "out." The building trades, cabinet-makers and packing-case-makers are all threatening to strike. At Béziers the masons and stone-cutters; at Coudé the boat-builders and carpenters; at Marseilles the rope-makers and washerwomen; at Rouen the cabinet-makers and varnishers; at Tours the lace-makers; and many other trades elsewhere have all struck.

MIDDLE-AGED MEN.

On examining the urinary deposits aropy sediment will often be found, and some small particles of albumen will appear, or the color will be of a thick milky hue, again changing to a pale and torpid appearance. There are many men who die of this difficulty, ignorant of the cause, which is the second stage of seminal weakness. Dr. S. will guarantee a perfect cure in all such cases, and a healthy restoration of the semi-diurnal urinary action. Through examination and advice $5. P. S.
